Award-winning Grizzly Bear Adventure, where luxury meets wilderness with your own private chalet.

Bella Coola, British Columbia, Canada – the perfect place to be when the local rivers, host to teeming numbers of returning salmon, draw lots of grizzlies hoping to fatten up for the coming winter. This is when we'll be there to watch the grizzly bears! When they are so focussed on fishing, the bears are much easier to observe.

Before we fly up to Bella Coola on our wilderness adventure, we meet first in Vancouver for a couple of nights to explore this bustling city. Also explore the ancient Great Bear Rainforest in the company of local expert guides whilst staying in private chalets at the award-winning Tweedsmuir Park Lodge.

Your bear viewing commences with a late afternoon River Drift down the Atnarko River. Relax and enjoy the amazing mountain scenery.....and keep your eyes open for wildlife! The salmon are spawning and provide an easy meal for majestic bald eagles and impressive grizzly bears. River otters and black bears may also be seen. Small Group River Drift Bear Viewing is a unique experience only found at Tweedsmuir Park Lodge and is the best way to see grizzlies. The bears are busy fishing and ignore your presence, allowing you to see them at their most natural. It's also a great way to capture amazing photographs.

DAY 4 - GUIDED NATURE WALK & AFTERNOON DRIVE

Wake up early and wander down to the Wildlife Viewing Station, which is for the exclusive use of Tweedsmuir Park Lodge guests. Early morning is a great time to spot bears and the raised structure provides open lines of sight both up and down the river. After checking out the station you have a choice of a hot or continental breakfast, which is held every day at 8am. Afterwards, it's time to head out for a Guided Nature Walk in the old growth forests of Tweedsmuir Park, the largest provincial park in British Columbia. Your guide, a naturalist, will show you how to track the bears and will point out various bear signs, including rub trees with claw and bite marks, and places the bears dig out in the forest floor for their naps called day beds. A picnic lunch will be served in the field. In the afternoon, continue exploring the park with a drive on the Tote Road past old, abandoned homesteads brimming with character. This is prime bear habitat and sightings are common. At the end of the road there is a short, highly recommended hike to Stillwater Lake. This is a beautiful, pristine place that should not be missed! You will arrive back at the lodge in the late afternoon. Now you can relax and enjoy some hors d'oeuvres on the sun deck of the lodge, exchanging stories of wildlife seen with your fellow guests. Make sure to head back to the Wildlife Viewing Station before dinner.

A nutritious lunch will be served at the lodge before you head off with your guide to further explore Tweedsmuir Park.
